Blessing's Story

Blessing John knew she needed to leave her home in Nigeria to escape the violence and widespread human trafficking.

“It was scary and really hard because I had no family here. It was just me and my kids,” said Blessing. “But when you know you need to do something, you don’t worry about what may happen. I just wanted a good life.”

When Blessing arrived in Lancaster, she had nowhere to go. She lived in a shelter for six months, then at Milagro House for two years. She worked for her GED, got a job at LGH and a car and finally her own place to call home. Now, with assistance from United Way Partner Path to One Good Job, she is working toward her LPN certification to make a better life for her family. And she is extremely thankful for the assistance she has received.

“I’m so grateful for all the help I’ve gotten and I want to give back to the community,” says Blessing. “I want to be somebody my kids will look up to.”
